About Us:

Founded in 1894 as The Andover Village Improvement Society, AVIS is one of the oldest land conservation organizations in the country.

AVIS manages more than 30 reservations comprising more than 1,200 acres in the Town of Andover. It relies on a corps of volunteers to lead the organization and to provide maintenance of its recreational trails and stewardship for the land and its wildlife habitat. Donations from community members and grant sources provide the funds to acquire, protect and manage its reservations.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We acknowledge that AVIS reservations are located on the ancestral land of the Pennacook, Pawtucket, and other Indigenous people, which was their home for more than 10,000 years. We honor the land we manage and all the Indigenous people who were here before, are here now, and will be here in the future. We recognize that we are all guests on this land and are mindful of our impact. With this acknowledgement, we commit to continuously care for this land, using sustainable practices to protect the environment and provide stewardship for the ecology and habitat of AVIS reservations.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE OUTDOORS

"I felt my lungs inflate with the onrush of scenery- air, mountains, trees, people. I thought, 'this is what it is to be happy'"
- Sylvia Plath

Nature is a healthy way to cope with the stress of real life. In a society where the majority of the population work indoors, exposure to the benefits of nature are limited. Getting outdoors can contribute to physical wellness, mental wellness, and wellness in communities. According to Michelle Kondo, a research social scientist with the USDA Forest Service's Northern Research Station, "Wellness is wholistic in that it is comprised of physical and mental health as well as the health of our communities...All of these benefits add up and reduce adverse impacts on our bodies, and have restorative characteristics. So get outdoors and enjoy nature's gift of wellness".

WILKINSON RESERVATION MAP

Features:

Wilkinson Reservation contains several lower but steeply banked eskers (are ridges of rocks and coarse gravel that were deposited by meltwater streams flowing through crevices and tunnels in the glacier). A ridge overlooking the marshy end of Foster's Pond offers bird watching opportunities. A sturdy bench built by an Eagle Scout provides a comfortable resting spot. A mating pair of blue herons have been observed here and an osprey has been sighted in an impressive grove of graceful hemlocks. In spring, Wilkinson woodlands are filled with lady slippers, trilliums, white swamp azaleas, pinks, mountain laurel and many more wildflowers and flowering shrubs. The kettle hole ponds are home to several species of frogs and other amphibians. Deer hunting is permitted during the hunting season only. Though not large, this reservation is rich in geological interests, wildflowers, and lovely trees.

History:

The glaciers that covered Andover 10,000-12,000 years ago shaped the topography of Wilkinson Reservation. Wilkinson Reservation was given to AVIS in 1981 by Irvin and Marsha Wilkinson, to be preserved and cared for. Their son, David, a science teacher at Andover High School, used this geologically interesting property as a laboratory for his students.

Wilkinson Reservation

"AVIS manages its reservations to protect native habitat and provide opportunities for the public to experience, enjoy and learn about nature through passive recreation."
